See the wild side of soccer in 'The Wolves'

A 2017 Pulitzer Prize finalist for drama, Sarah DeLappe's play explores the life and times of nine American girls on a competitive indoor soccer team. From the safety of their suburban stretch circle, the team navigates big life questions and wages tiny personal battles with all the attitude and spark of a pack of adolescent warriors. "The Wolves" is a peek into the brains and hearts of these girls through their real-life unfiltered conversations.

CREATURE FEATURE

Meet Sheriff

Green iguanas, like Sheriff, are native to Central and South America and have been introduced to Florida. Sheriff's favorite part of the day is her warm mist shower. Her "third eye" on top of her head helps her avoid birds of prey.
